Bimini Big Game Club reopens as Guy Harvey Outpost Resort and Marina

I've just returned from the "Islands in the Stream" island, Bimini, where the newly reopened Bimini Big Game Club has re-awakened the sportsfishing industry to what may be possible again. The Bimini Big Game Club has been taken over by the development team of artist and friend Guy Harvey. The new name is now....The Bimini Big Game Club Guy Harvey Outpost Resort and Marina. By the time you say that name if you start out in Miami, you'll be in Bimini. Jean and I were invited to attend the grand opening Media Event just a few days ago and we were thrilled to see the "new look" of the marina and the attention to detail given every aspect of the old club. It was amazing to say the least. I'm proud that the decorators purchased over 60 pieces of my art work to grace the newly redecorated rooms and bar of the resort. Thanks Guy, Mark & Chris for a great trip and the chance to see beautiful Bimini once again. Vaughn
